

International Speaker | Consultant | Leadership Expert | Author | Thought-leader

I speak at national and regional conventions – either as a presenter or panelist – on topics ranging from mission critical facilities to leadership and organizational change. I will gladly customize any of my presentations to facilitate the outcome you want to achieve for your event.

Terry R. Vergon

tvergon@sapientervicesllc.com

Most Requested Topics

The Leadership Epiphanies

To learn leadership, you need experiences that provide you with new perspectives and beliefs around people. This overview explains the five epiphanies that all great, inspirational leaders have experienced and how they work.

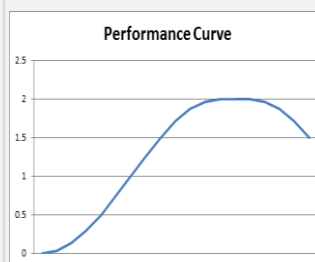

(This presentation can be adapted to keynotes, workshops, or organizational cultural interventions.)

Finding and Developing Leaders

This presentation teaches how to identify the potential leaders among you and, once found, how you can guide them onto the path of learning leadership.

(Again, this presentation is suitable as a keynote address, seminar, or workshop.)

Leading Organizational Change

This presentation discusses the planning, implementation, and follow-through of changing an organization's culture. The same principles can also be applied to realigning the culture of an organization.

(This subject is appropriate as a keynote, seminar, workshop or organizational intervention.)

Allowing Innovation to Flourish in your Organization

This workshop discusses how to create an environment that fosters innovation, how to evaluate ideas and implement them quickly, and how to sustain the new culture of innovation for the long term.

(The workshop can also be part of an organization intervention.)

Terry's opportunities to speak on leadership topics often include training and organizational interventions around the culture in corporations and governmental agencies. Contact: Linda Vergon (lvergon@sapientervicesllc.com)